Performing songwriter Jennifer Spector has been playing her distinctive, "genre-blending" music in her engaging solo acoustic shows for 10 years. Her award-winning style is anchored in traditional Folk and influenced by the smart sassiness of Jazz and a bit of rootsy Americana.

"I thanked her for making my radio station sound so good. It is rare that I see someone new come through on tour with a sparkling talent for songwriting and a truly great voice to compliment it! I hope she digs in deep and keeps her career moving forward. Jennifer definitely has what it takes to become a heavyweight."
